Section 11 reviews is relevant in particular:

11.20 – In deciding which of these powers to invoke, it is expected that licensing authorities should so far as possible seek to establish the cause or causes of the concerns that the representations identify. The remedial action should generally be directed at these causes and should always be no more than an appropriate and proportionate response.

- 4.3 If a suspension or revocation is being considered 11.23 should be taken into account “it will always be important that any detrimental financial impact that may result from a licensing authority’s decision is appropriate and proportionate to the promotion of the licensing objectives. But where premises are found to be trading irresponsibly, the licensing authority should not hesitate, where appropriate to do so, to take tough action to tackle the problems at the premises and, where other measures are deemed insufficient, to revoke the licence.”

The panel have the following powers:

1. Take no action
2. Modify the conditions of the licence (by adding removing or varying conditions)
3. Exclude a licensable activity from the licence

Part 3 – Reason for Review

This application to review relates to the following licensing objective(s):

	Please tick
1) the prevention of crime and disorder	x
2) public safety	x
3) the prevention of public nuisance
4) the protection of children from harm

Please state the ground(s) for review (please read guidance note 1 before completing)

The review is brought on behalf of the Licensing Authority following concerns that the Licensing Objectives are not being properly promoted when the premises are selling alcohol.

The circumstances leading to this review are that on the 12th January 2015 the premises were visited by Trading Standards, Health and Safety and the Police as part of a series of routine inspections of off licences. An inspection behind the counter revealed what appeared to be counterfeit bottles of Glen’s Vodka that were exposed for sale alongside bottles of genuine alcohol. These bottles, 6 in total, were subsequently seized and sent for examination by the Quality Manager of the Loch Lomand Group, which produces Glen’s Vodka. In due course it was confirmed that the seized vodka was counterfeit.

This raises concerns on many levels. Firstly, the position in society held by an operator of an off licence is a trusted one. The selling of counterfeit vodka to the unsuspecting public is a breach of that position of trust. It is safe to say that whoever produces the vodka has little regard for quality control procedures and most people, under the impression that they were buying genuine Glen’s vodka, at the genuine price, would not voluntarily drink it. In this respect the activity constitutes a breach of the licensing objective relating to public safety.

In respect of the licensing objective relating to the prevention of crime and disorder, the selling of counterfeit vodka is a clear offence under the Trade Marks Act 1994 and the Food Safety Act 1990. The Home Office published “Amended Guidance Issued under Section 182 of the Licensing Act 2003” dated June 2013, discusses in part 11, Reviews arising in connection with crime. Paragraph 11.27 outlines certain criminal activity that may arise in in connection with licenced premises which should be treated particularly seriously. Eleven examples are given of criminal activity. The last one states, “ For the sale of smuggled alcohol or tobacco.” It is accepted that the vodka in issue is not smuggled, but if we apply a more liberal interpretation of the guidance, it is within the spirit of the guidance that the sale of counterfeit alcohol should also be treated particularly seriously.

In support of this application I include evidence from Public Protection Officer Steven Ash, the Officer involved in the investigation into the counterfeit vodka. I include his statement as Document 1 and supporting evidence referred to in his statement as Documents 2 - 6 respectively. I also include a photograph of the counterfeit vodka as document 7. At the time of this application the interview referred to has not yet taken place.

Please provide as much information as possible to support the application. Continue on a separate sheet if necessary. (Please read guidance note 2 before completing)

I am the above named and am employed as a Public Protection Officer within the Trading Standards (Enforcement) Section of the Public Protection Division. In this role I am authorised to enforce the provisions of the Trade Marks Act 1994. On the 12th January 2015 I was part of a multi-agency operation with Blackpool's Health and Safety Section and the Police. We were visiting a series of Off Licences to offer advice and inspect their premises as appropriate. At 13:40 we entered Abingdon News, Unit 13, Abingdon Street Market, Abingdon Street, Blackpool. The only person in attendance was the husband of premise licence holder Arvind Gandhi. I introduced myself and asked to go behind the counter. I identified the Glen's Vodka and visually inspected it for signs of authenticity. There were a few visual clues that suggested the vodka was counterfeit. I expressed my concerns to Mr Gandhi and informed him that I would be seizing the bottles. As I was in conversation with Mr Gandhi, the premise licence holder, Kailashen Gandhi entered the premise. I advised her of my suspicions and handed a Code B notice of Powers to Mr Gandhi. I seized the bottles, six in total, and left the premises. The bottles were immediately transferred to secure storage and an exhibit to be sent to the producer for an opinion was selected and sealed with Tag: 00539228. I produce a copy of the Code B Notice of Powers as exhibit SJA/AN/1. On the 13th January 2015 I sent a letter and receipt to Mrs Gandhi, copies of which I produce as exhibits SJA/AN/2 – 3. On the 14th January 2015 I sent an exhibit of the seized Glen's Vodka to Tom Taylor, Quality Manager of the Loch Lomand Group, which produces Glen's Vodka. On the 21st January 2015 I emailed Tom Taylor to confirm that he had received the exhibit. He confirmed he had and that the sample was counterfeit. I produce this email was exhibit SJA/AN/4. Later that day I hand delivered a letter to Abingdon News, where Mr Gandhi was in attendance. I explained that the vodka was counterfeit and that Mrs Gandhi was invited to attend a formal interview. I produce a copy of this letter as exhibit SJA/AN/5.

Dear Mrs Gandhi

Trade Marks Act 1994

The Blackpool Trading Standards Section enforces the provisions of the above legislation.

On the 12th January 2015 I visited your premises, Abingdon News, Abingdon Street Market, with the Police and Blackpool Council's Health and Safety Section. The purpose of the visit was to carry out a routine multi agency inspection.

On inspection I noticed that selected bottles of Glen's vodka appeared to be counterfeit. Six Bottles were behind the counter and were exposed for sale. These bottles were consequently seized and will be subject to investigation to establish whether they are authentic or not. I enclose a receipt in respect of the seized bottles.

When the investigation into the authenticity of the vodka has been concluded I will be in contact to advise you of the next course of action. In the meantime if you wish to discuss this matter further, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Dear Mrs Gandhi

Trade Marks Act 1994

I refer to my previous letter dated the 13th January 2015 and my visit of the 12th January 2015.

During this visit I seized a quantity of Glen's vodka. I have now had confirmation that the vodka is counterfeit, it is therefore alleged that you have committed an offence contrary to the Trade Marks Act 1994.

The purpose of this letter is to invite you to attend a formal, tape recorded, interview. The interview will be conducted under caution in accordance with the Police and Criminal Evidence Act and will take place at the Municipal Buildings, Corporation Street, FY1 1NF at 11:00 AM, Friday, 30th January 2015.

The purpose of the interview is to give you a chance to explain your actions and to put forward any defences that you feel may be relevant. I strongly advise you to bring any paperwork that you wish to rely on (invoices etc). Please be aware that any comments you make in response to this letter, in writing or otherwise, will be made under caution. The caution reads -

You do not have to say anything, but it may harm your defence if you do not mention when questioned something which you later rely on in Court. Anything you do say may be given in evidence.

It may be advisable for you to seek independent legal advice whether or not you decide to respond to this letter. If you fail to respond to this letter or you fail to attend for interview, a report will be submitted to the Public Protection Manager for consideration of legal proceedings.

I would also draw your attention to the provisions of Section 34 of the Criminal Justice and Public Order Act 1994, which, under certain circumstances, enables a Court to draw inference from an accused person's failure to mention facts when questioned about a criminal offence.

Hi Steve,

I received the bottles that you sent and I can confirm that both are counterfeit and were not produced by our company.

I will provide Section 9 witness statements confirming my findings. Please let me know if require two separate statements as the seizures were from two premises as advised in your covering letter.

I would recommend that you send bottles to your Public Analyst for analysis to make sure that the contents are not detrimental to health.

We can carry out basic analysis in our Lab for strength, colour and other quality parameters etc. but we don't have the specialised equipment required for analysing counterfeit product for methanol, and other harmful chemicals that may be present.

In brief the previous review was applied for under the licensing objectives relating to the prevention of crime and disorder and the prevention of public nuisance.

In summary, the premise had been persistently selling alcohol to street drinkers who would then go on to cause a nuisance in the immediate area. In addition it was also a condition of the licence that a refusal register be kept. This was not adhered to. The application is dated the 22nd November 2012.

COMMENTS

OFFICER: STEVEN ASH

DEFENDANT/S: KAILASHEN GANDHI

REPORTING OFFICER'S COMMENTS

The defendant was unable to offer any convincing defence for her actions other than the somewhat contrived defence that she bought the vodka off a man who came into her shop, who had no identification, and who handed her a very generic invoice.

Mrs (and Mr) Gandhi have operated Abingdon News for 4 years and previously ran a hotel for 10 years according to Mrs Gandhi. It is inconceivable that she is so naïve as to not realise the risks involved in this sort of transaction.

The selling of counterfeit alcohol alongside genuine alcohol suggests that it is being sold to unsuspecting members of the public as genuine. This is a serious breach of trust on the part of a premise licence holder, a position of responsibility.

Given the deceptive quality of the offence, and the lack of credible excuse, or defence, and given the potential harm to the public, I am recommending a prosecution.

I am the above named and am employed as a Public Protection Officer within the Trading Standards (Enforcement) Section of the Public Protection Division. In this role I am authorised to enforce the provisions of the Trade Marks Act 1994. On the 12th January 2015 I was part of a multi-agency operation with Blackpool's Health and Safety Section and the Police. We were visiting a series of Off Licences to offer advice and inspect their premises as appropriate. At 13:40 we entered Abingdon News, Unit 13, Abingdon Street Market, Abingdon Street, Blackpool. The only person in attendance was the husband of premise licence holder, Arvind Gandhi. I introduced myself and asked to go behind the counter. I identified the Glen's Vodka and visually inspected it for signs of authenticity. There were a few visual clues that suggested the vodka was counterfeit. I expressed my concerns to Mr Gandhi and informed him that I would be seizing the bottles. As I was in conversation with Mr Gandhi, the premise licence holder, Kailashen Gandhi entered the premise. I advised her of my suspicions and handed a Code B notice of Powers to Mr Gandhi. I seized the bottles, six in total, and left the premises. The bottles were immediately transferred to secure storage and an exhibit to be sent to the producer for an opinion was selected and sealed with Tag: 00539228. I produce a copy of the Code B Notice of Powers as exhibit SJA/AN/1. On the 13th January 2015 I sent a letter and receipt to Mrs Gandhi, copies of which I produce as exhibits SJA/AN/2 – 3. On the 14th January 2015 I sent an exhibit of the seized Glen's Vodka to Tom Taylor, Quality Manager of the Loch Lomond Group, which produces Glen's Vodka. On the 21st January 2015 I emailed Tom Taylor to confirm that he had received the exhibit. He confirmed he had and that the sample was counterfeit. I produce this email was exhibit SJA/AN/4. Later that day I hand delivered a letter to Abingdon News, where Mr Gandhi was in attendance. I explained that the vodka was counterfeit and that Mrs Gandhi was invited to attend a formal interview. I produce a copy of this letter as exhibit SJA/AN/5. On the 26th January 2015 I received a 'phone call from Mr Gandhi wanting to rearrange the interview. The interview was subsequently arranged for 10:30 AM Thursday 29th January 2015. On the 28th January 2015 a man called on behalf of Mr Gandhi. I could hear Mr Gandhi in the background; this man explained that Mr Gandhi wanted the opportunity to seek legal advice. I agreed and gave Mr Gandhi 7 days in which to make further contact with me. On the 2nd February 2015 Mr Gandhi telephoned me and an interview was subsequently arranged for the Wednesday, 4th February 2015 at 12:00. At the appointed time Mrs Gandhi turned up to be interviewed. During the course of the interview she gave me an invoice that she claimed had been given to her by a man who called into her shop in December 2014, just before Christmas, and sold her 8 bottles of Glen's vodka for £12 each. I referred to this invoice in the interview, and produce this invoice as exhibit SJA/Invoice/1. I sealed a copy of the interview tape and this was transferred to our secure tape library. Later that day I hand delivered the working copy of the interview tape to the person who transcribes our tapes. On the 5th February 2015 I received the bottle of Glen's vodka that I had sealed with Tag: 00539228 and that was now sealed with Tag: CBWT004978 from Tom Taylor of Loch Lomond Group. He included with this exhibit a covering letter advising that the vodka was counterfeit and his witness statement. I produce the covering letter as exhibit SJA/AN/6. On the 6th February 2015 I received an emailed transcription of the interview. I exhibit a copy of this transcript as exhibit SJA/1.

Dear Mrs Gandhi

Trade Marks Act 1994

I refer to my previous letter dated the 13th January 2015 and my visit of the 12th January 2015.

During this visit I seized a quantity of Glen's vodka. I have now had confirmation that the vodka is counterfeit, it is therefore alleged that you have committed an offence contrary to the Trade Marks Act 1994.

The purpose of this letter is to invite you to attend a formal, tape recorded, interview. The interview will be conducted under caution in accordance with the Police and Criminal Evidence Act and will take place at the Municipal Buildings, Corporation Street, FY1 1NF at 11:00 AM, Friday, 30th January 2015.

The purpose of the interview is to give you a chance to explain your actions and to put forward any defences that you feel may be relevant. I strongly advise you to bring any paperwork that you wish to rely on (invoices etc). Please be aware that any comments you make in response to this letter, in writing or otherwise, will be made under caution. The caution reads -

You do not have to say anything, but it may harm your defence if you do not mention when questioned something which you later rely on in Court. Anything you do say may be given in evidence.

It may be advisable for you to seek independent legal advice whether or not you decide to respond to this letter. If you fail to respond to this letter or you fail to attend for interview, a report will be submitted to the Public Protection Manager for consideration of legal proceedings.

I would also draw your attention to the provisions of Section 34 of the Criminal Justice and Public Order Act 1994, which, under certain circumstances, enables a Court to draw inference from an accused person's failure to mention facts when questioned about a criminal offence.

S Ash When I was inspecting your premises I examined six bottles of Vodka that appeared to be genuine Glen's vodka, but appeared counterfeit. I seized these bottles and it has been confirmed that they are counterfeit. Can you tell me how they came to be behind the counter for sale with other genuine bottled spirits, so how did they arrive there? The bottles that I seized how did they end up behind the counter?

K Gandhi Before the Christmas someone came to my hotel and tried to sell me, ---came, I know him, then someone else came, I got another bottle again and then it was Christmas, before the Christmas and I had no time to go to cash and carry so I took from him, they looked the same and then sell in good faith-----

S Ash So, just to clarify for the tape machine, just before Christmas, the cash and carry was closed so...

K Gandhi I hadn't time...

S Ash You hadn't time...

K Gandhi Because my husband's sister had pneumonia and I wasn't able to go there so we didn't have time to go to cash and carry...

S Ash So, due to personal circumstances neither you or your husband had time to go to the cash and carry so someone turned up at your hotel, your home address?

K Gandhi No the shop address

S Ash The shop address sorry and they sold you, it looks like according to the receipts... for the tape Mrs Gandhi is handing me an invoice 37655 and it says cash, invoice to follow December 2014 and on the receipt is detailed a quantity of eight Glen's Vodka £12 each, paid and then a scribbled signature, total £96. Okay who made the transaction, who bought the Vodka?

K Gandhi I was there.

S Ash You were there, was your husband there as well?

K Gandhi No

S Ash Just you in the shop, can you describe this person?

K Gandhi He is like -Five and a half to six foot, English guy.

S Ash English, okay.

K Gandhi And he got a blue jacket on...

S Ash Blue jacket.

K Gandhi I can't remember his face but he had a blue jacket on...

S Ash Okay, did his jacket have any kind of logo?

K Gandhi I checked the -----Uk made in the back...

S Ash It said UK made at the back of the Vodka?

K Gandhi Yes I think so, yes.

S Ash Did he have any other paperwork?

K Gandhi Just this one.

S Ash Did he have any ID with him, this guy?

K Gandhi No he says he will send me the other invoice.

S Ash Have you dealt with him before?

K Gandhi No

S Ash So you have never seen him before, he walked in your shop... did he have a bag of Vodka or did he have it in a box?

K Gandhi One box and then some loose as well.

S Ash Some loose, do you still have the box?

K Gandhi No

S Ash And you paid him cash?

K Gandhi Yes

S Ash I took six bottles out so it looks like you sold two bottles of Glen's Vodka?

K Gandhi Yes

S Ash Can I keep this invoice or take a copy?

K Gandhi Yes

S Ash Ok, where do you normally get your spirits from?

K Gandhi Sometime Morrisons, sometime, what is it called? Bookers? And Aldi's sometimes, I was going to sell it over Christmas that is why I took it but I couldn't sell it.

S Ash Who is normally responsible for buying spirits, is it you or is it your husband?

K Gandhi My husband usually, its me made the mistake -----kind of mistake

S Ash So was it your husband who did the deal or was it you?

K Gandhi I was there.

S Ash You were there. Day to day, who runs the business? Is it you or your husband or both?

K Gandhi We both...

S Ash You both do it. Who would you say has control of the business, who is the controlling mind? Who makes the decisions?

K Gandhi Both of us do.

S Ash Both of you. Do you employ, do you have any members of staff?

K Gandhi No, can't afford.

S Ash No, I understand. Do you ever ask anybody to run the stall for you as a favour?

K Gandhi Pardon?

S Ash Do you ask anyone to look after the stall?

K Gandhi No, we don't go anywhere, because of this.

S Ash Okay, so going back to this invoice... I take it the invoice that was promised never followed?

K Gandhi No

S Ash You never got anything else, have you seen this guy ever again?

K Gandhi No

S Ash Did you notice what sort of vehicle he was driving?

K Gandhi No, I didn't see outside.

S Ash What sort of age, roughly, would you say he was?

K Gandhi 35

S Ash 35 so 5'6" to 6', 35 English, you think okay. Under the Trade Marks Act, in this case, its not up to me to prove what has happened. I think we have already established what has happened but the offence is you had in your possession counterfeit Vodka for sale. I just want to give you the opportunity to put forward any kind of defence you might have, so do you have anything you want to say in your defence? You know, I don't know what, but is there anything you can think of that you want to say to me to excuse what you have done or to explain...?

- K Gandhi Its my mistake that its done sorry about this, we get -----about it and I don't know why it has happened its one of -----in good faith, I thought it would be okay.
- S Ash Did you question why, did you ever wonder why someone would be selling genuine spirits... What do you usually pay for a bottle of Glen's Vodka?
- K Gandhi Similar
- S Ash £12, okay. Is there anything else you want to add?
- K Gandhi This is all my bills, yes and ----look at this, this one (Mrs Gandhi starts producing paperwork relating to proof of age traing etc)
- S Ash That is mine (invoice).
- K Gandhi No, this is yours its like either one litre-like -----very careful with the licence because look at this Aldi...
- S Ash Let's look at the paperwork. For the benefit of the tape Mrs Gandhil would probably want to prove that she is responsible...
- K Gandhi If anyone looks 20 not 20 we look 25 instead of ID.
- S Ash I take your point, I see you have got a few documents here, however in respect of this offence, this isn't really relevant, so yes...
- K Gandhi Not look 25 if no ID he looks anyway.
- S Ash Okay. Mrs Gandhi wants to establish, on tape, that at this point she takes the Challenge 25 policy very seriously. I appreciate that, that will be argued as a separate issue if it comes to it. We are here just to discuss... we need to ask you questions about the Vodka, okay? Is there anything in there that is relevant to that?
- K Gandhi And then he want to sell it now, because ----- enough now
- S Ash Shaun is there anything you want to ask?
- S McKinney Do you have CCTV?

K Gandhi Yes

S McKinney Its part of your licensing condition isn't it?

K Gandhi Yes

S McKinney How far does that go back?

K Gandhi I think its 28 days or something.

S McKinney 28 days so when we came, when my colleague came in on the 12th was it, 12th January, would it have been in the last 28 days prior to that that this young man has been in with your...?

K Gandhi No its -----28 from now isn't it?

S McKinney No, I understand that, but when he came in on the 12th?

K Gandhi I don't know.

S McKinney What I am saying to you is that when he came in on the 12th of January this year and took that Vodka from you, theoretically, this man that sold you the Vodka, came in that period 28 days prior to the 12th January this year you would have been able to show us the footage of that wouldn't you?

K Gandhi Ok

S McKinney All I am saying to you is that if you were trying to reason this away why you have got it, you could have done that by producing the CCTV footage and you have not so did you know this man, are you sure you didn't know this man?

K Gandhi No, I haven't seen him after then no, not realised about it.

S McKinney I mean its not even a proper receipt is it, you know when you look at these, I mean when it comes to...

K Gandhi It does say Vodka

S McKinney I appreciate that, but you have run this business for a number of years haven't you and you know that customs will come along and say "produce proper receipts" so realistically this receipt is worth nothing, you could have done it yourself, its pointless, its not even got a proper name on it, got no contact details, you look at that, that ----- on the top of it, its not a proper receipt so that is pointless, how long have you been in business?

K Gandhi This one is four and a half years.

S McKinney You have had that off licence four and a half years?

K Gandhi Yes

S McKinney What did you do before that?

K Gandhi I had a hotel

S McKinney Right, so in your hotel, how long have you been there?

K Gandhi Ten and a half years

S McKinney Ten and a half years. So when somebody rolls up at the door you don't buy do you?

K Gandhi No, its just I made a mistake, sorry.

S McKinney But its an extremely costly mistake. Supposing the stuff was dangerous?

S Ash Okay. Well unless you have anything else to add, I will exhibit this invoice as SJA/Invoice/1, and I will now hand Mrs Gandhi the Notice for the Interview that has been Tape Recorded, which we discussed earlier, if you want a copy of the tape, that explains how to do it. Okay the time, according the clock on the wall, is exactly 12.05pm and we are turning off the tape recorder.

STATEMENT OF WITNESS

(Criminal Procedure Rules 2005, r 27.1(1); Criminal Justice Act 1967, s.9; Magistrates' Court Act 1980, s.5B)

Statement of: Thomas Keith Taylor

Age if Witness: Over 18

Occupation: Quality Manager

This statement consisting of two pages each signed by me, is true to the best of my knowledge and belief and I make it knowing that, if it is tendered in evidence, I shall be liable to prosecution if I have wilfully stated in it anything which I know to be false or do not believe to be true.

Dated the 2nd Day of February 2015

Signature:

I am Thomas Keith Taylor and I have been employed by Glen Catrine Bonded Warehouse Ltd, 7 Laigh Road, Catrine, Ayrshire, KA5 6SQ as Quality Manager for twenty two years. In March 2014 the company changed ownership and now trades as Loch Lomond Group at the same address. I am employed as Quality Manager for the new company. In this capacity, I am familiar with the design, appearance, composition and quality of all genuine Loch Lomond Group products and I am authorised to speak on behalf of the company in relation to such matters. I can confirm that Glen's Vodka is a vodka brand for which Loch Lomond Group owns the Trade Mark Number EU003231107 and the brand was introduced in April 2003. I produce a copy of the Trademark Certificate and identify it as TKT/1. No other person, other than an agent authorised by our company, has permission to manufacture, produce or distribute any items bearing our trademark. On 16th January 2015 I received from Steven Ash, Public Protection Officer with Blackpool Council Trading Standards Enforcement, a plastic bag sealed with seal number 00539228. The bag contained a 1 Litre bottle that was labelled 'Glen's Vodka' and also had a self-adhesive label applied to it identifying it as exhibit SJA/AN/1. An accompanying letter from Steven Ash stated that the bottle was seized from a stall in Abingdon Street Market called Abingdon News, Unit 13, Abingdon Street, Blackpool, and requested that I examine it to establish if the product was genuine or counterfeit. I placed the sealed bag in secure storage and removed the bottle from it prior to examination. On examination, I came to the conclusion that the bottle was counterfeit. My reasons for determining that it was not a genuine 1 Litre bottle of Glen's Vodka were as follows; The front and back labels on the counterfeit bottle appeared to be self-adhesive as there was no visible glue pattern. Genuine Glen's Vodka 1 Litre labels are applied by a Kosme Rotary Labelling Machine using a wet adhesive which produces a distinctive glue pattern on the back of the label (horizontal lines approximately 2mm apart). The print font used for the counterfeit cap was different from that on a genuine cap and the red colour and print were much duller. Genuine bottles of Glen's Vodka have a production lot code applied by laser or ink-jet at the time of filling to allow each bottle to be traced. There was no lot code on the counterfeit bottle. The spirit in the counterfeit bottle was tested in our Laboratory and was found to be organoleptically different from genuine Glen's Vodka and had an unpleasant odour. The alcoholic strength of the contents of the bottle was tested and found to be 33.3% vol. instead of 37.5% +/- 0.3% vol. for genuine Glen's Vodka. After examination of the counterfeit bottle, I placed it back in the plastic bag along with the original seal and sealed the bag with seal number CBWT 004978. The sealed bag was placed in suitable packaging and returned by courier to Steven Ash at Blackpool Council Trading Standards Enforcement. I can confirm that Abingdon News, Unit 13, Abingdon Street, Blackpool, is not an agent authorised by our company and has not been granted any licence or authority to use our trademarks. Counterfeiting of Glen's Vodka, or indeed any other brand, misleads consumers into purchasing poor quality products which do not meet our high quality and food safety standards or the expectations of the consumer. As the deception is often not obvious to the consumer, their quality perception of the product they have purchased will be attributed to the Glen's Vodka brand which is extremely detrimental to our company's reputation and brand equity.

I am the above named and am employed as a Public Protection Officer within the Trading Standards (Enforcement) Section of the Public Protection Division. This statement is a continuation of the one I made dated the 14th July 2011 concerning a bottle of vodka I seized from Abingdon News on the 27th June 2011. Following on from my previous statement, and in the absence of Public Protection Officer Stuart Killip I state that I handed over the investigation to PPO Killip as he was the food specialist and seemed to be the most appropriate person to deal with the vodka. Upon checking the Council's records it appears that PPO S Killip subsequently interviewed Mrs Kailasben Gandhi. I produce a copy of the covering sheet of an offence report that was submitted by PPO S Killip as exhibit SJA/KG/1 and a copy of the entry on the Trading Standards bespoke database used for recording complaints relating to this investigation as exhibit SJA/KG/2. I produce a copy of the database entry referred to as 909088 as exhibit SJA/KG/3.

Blackpool Council (Continuation Sheet No 2)

Officers observations/recommendations

Clearly such a purchase was irresponsible, bearing in mind the widely reported problems with counterfeit and illicit spirits. The fact that the bottles had had the rear label removed and consequently were without a duty stamp as well as the fact that the seals were broken should have raised suspicion.

The mobile telephone number is still live but I am unable to trace it as we do not currently have access to the NAFN system.

Both Mr and Mrs Gandhi are partners in the business but Mrs Gandhi is the DPS. She admitted during interview to purchasing the vodka.

In view of the small number of bottles concerned (there were only two in the premises when Steve Ash visited) I would recommend that a simple caution be administered to Mrs Gandhi

I am the above named and am employed within Blackpool Council's Quality Standards and Enforcement Division as a Public Protection Officer within the Trading Standards Enforcement Section. On the 22nd June 2011 I received a complaint from a Mr Bambrook,
 Mr Bambrook alleged that he had purchased a bottle of Nicolaij vodka from Abingdon News & Booze, a shop situated within Abingdon Street Market. I contacted Mr Bambrook and he explained that he believed that the bottle was unsealed at the time of purchase as there was no "snap" sound when he opened it and that the original bar code on the bottle appeared to have been removed. Mr Bambrook emailed me two images of the bottle of vodka and I produce these images as exhibit SJA/1. On the 27th June 2011 I was passing the market and visited Abingdon News & Booze. I introduced myself and asked to see a bottle of Nicolaij vodka. There appeared to be two bottles on a shelf behind the counter. I viewed one bottle. The label on the rear of the bottle appeared to have been removed leaving a sticky residue of adhesive on the bottle and a visual check of the seal appeared to be broken. I asked the male behind the counter where the vodka was from. He seemed to indicate that that it had been left by the previous owner of the shop. I requested the male's consent to take the bottle and this was given. I left my business card at the shop. On my return to the Trading Standards Office I discussed the matter with PPO Stuart Killip. On the 29th June 2011 I accompanied PPO S Killip on an inspection of Abingdon News & Booze. On our arrival it became apparent that the remaining bottle of Nicolaij vodka had been removed from sale. While PPO S Killip conducted an inspection of the shop I took the details of the proprietor. He is Arvind Gandhi and his wife, who wasn't present, is Koilos Gandhi. He advised me that they have been the proprietors for over a year. Later that day I revisited the shop and left a Code B notice and a receipt for the bottle I had taken previously. I produce a copy of these documents as exhibits SJA/2 and SJA/3 respectively.

The premises were Reviewed in early 2013 for concerning practice in connection with failing to follow simple instruction properly given, the instruction were not to serve less than 10 individual problem street drinkers who were regularly causing Public Nuisance in and around the market.

The Licensing Committee and the responsible authorities approached the hearing in a very pragmatic way deciding that the imposition of conditions COULD be appropriate depending on the implementation and maintenance of such conditions, a judgement call was made to give the benefit of the doubt to the licence holders that they would rectify the concerns that were identified in the application and comply fully with the conditions imposed.

A copy of the text from the Decision Notice is found below;

The Blackpool Council being the licensing authority on the 30th November 2012 submitted an application to review the premises licence issued in respect of Stall 13, Abingdon Street Market, Blackpool FY1 1DE

The Council have determined to deal with the review to reflect the agreement between the parties by issuing a warning to the Premises Licence Holder and adding conditions to the licence.

Decision

Having taken into account the papers in this case and the agreement reached between the parties the panel have decided to issue a warning to the premises licence holder. Whilst the panel cannot bind a future panel, an indication is given that should this licence be reviewed in the future, as a minimum, the likely sanction will be a suspension.

The panel also add the following conditions to the licence:

1. The premises licence holder and her husband will undertake the personal licence holder's course run by Blackpool Council. Such course to be completed by 30th April 2013.
2. The licence holder will exclude all persons properly notified to them by the police or other responsible authorities. Exclusions will include the refusal of all alcoholic drinks. Notifications will be given in writing with photographs and will be implemented on service until further notification from the servicing authority.
3. CCTV will be installed internally at the premises and will comply with the following:
 - a) The CCTV system shall be installed, maintained and operated to the reasonable satisfaction of Lancashire Constabulary. The entrance, the till and alcohol fridge areas are to be covered by the system. The system will incorporate a camera covering each of the entrance doors and will be capable of providing an image which is regarded as identification standard.
 - b) The system will display on any recording the correct time and date of the recording.
 - c) The system will make recordings during all hours the premises are open to the public.
 - d) VCR tapes or digital recording shall be held for a minimum of 31 days and 21 days respectively, after the recording is made and will be made available to the Police or any authorised persons acting for Responsible Authority for inspection upon request.
 - e) The system will, as a minimum, record images of the head and shoulders of all persons entering the premises.
4. A staff member who is conversant with the operation of the CCTV system will be on the premises at all times that the premises is open to the public. This staff member will be able to show police recent data or footage with the absolute minimum of delay when requested. This data or footage reproduction should be almost instantaneous.
5. Appropriate signage alerting customers to CCTV recording shall be displayed in conspicuous positions on the premises.

Date: 30th January 2013

A review of the licence has been sought by Weights and Measures following the discovery of counterfeit vodka which took place on the 12th January 2015

On the 26th February 2015 Mark Marshall and Gareth Shaw visited the premises, the market manager was spoken to and questioned as to whether he had further problems with the store, he confirmed that he didn't but added that the market has been very quiet for the last 18 months.

At 10.35 we entered the stall to find Mr Ghandi serving behind the counter, an explanation of the visit was given, which was to establish compliance with the conditions of the licence and to examine the Health and Safety position at the stall.

With regards to licensing compliance, this was disappointing, the CCTV equipment looked poorly maintained with intermittent faults appearing on the monitor, when asked to recall images from yesterday, Mrs Ghandi attempted unsuccessfully for 5-10 minutes to retrieve data, conceding eventually that her husband knew how to do it but was up at the hospital.

With regards to the staff training, no written staff training was in place with Mrs Ghandi pointing out that her and her husband had attended the personal licence course.

This is a small family operation with no employees, just MR and Mrs Ghandi, it does seem a very easy step to have a simple instruction in place to cover this Licensing Condition but a step the licence holder has omitted along with the CCTV requirement, which is to have someone competent to operate the CCTV equipment on site at all times.

The organisation of the stall was poor, again what does become very apparent is the management and maintenance of such a modest establishment should be straight forward but the conditions that prevailed give rise for concern as it was very dirty and disorganised.

The CCTV and the staff training requirements were conditions imposed after the review in 2013 so again I would question the ability and attitude of the licence holder as these simple matters have been overlooked.

The initial Offence of selling counterfeit goods was detected on the 12th January 2015, Mrs Ghandi was notified of the concerns at the time of the inspection, again a prudent operator would at least have thought to obtain the CCTV images of the supplier to assist Authorities in the detection of the offender.

However when interviewed on the 4th February Mrs Ghandi seemed to rely on the fact that too much time had elapsed since the supply and the images were no longer available.

The condition of the licence requires 31 days of images to be held, the receipt produced is not dated, it just say December 2014 and the description provided is unhelpful in the extreme. Mrs Ghandi described the male as, "White, between 5ft 6 and 6ft wearing a blue jacket."

The whole account is vague beyond belief, no date for the invoice, no name of the supplier, no meaningful description and no cctv images of the supplier despite him attended the stall.

The submission would be that the Licensing Authority can have little or no confidence in such an operator and bearing in mind they operate within a saturated ward, confidence in the operator is of the utmost importance.

For New / Variation Applications only.

It is recommended that the licence should only be granted if the application is amended, or if conditions are applied, as detailed below.

The Health and Safety Section would like to bring to the attention of the committee concerns in relation to the management/maintenance of this premise.

Photographs below show that despite previous interaction from this department the premise is allowed to slide back into a state of poor maintenance and cleanliness.

The pictures show that little consideration is given to proactively cleaning and maintaining the premise and it is usually only carried out when this department visits and serves enforcement documentation.

- 1) Filthy floors and trapped cable at >200Volts

- 2) Left cluttered storage around an electric heater and right an accumulation of waste under shelving.

- 3) Shroud missing from and older consumer unit in display area thus exposing live electrical connections.

- 4) Left permanent use of extension leads and right carpet lifting in walkway.

5) Poor cleanliness and repair of flooring areas.

6) Collapsed shelving.

7) Cables routed under carpets.
