Subject: Objection

Hi I'm just wanting to make a objection for 82 bond street getting there licence to sell alcohol We already have many drunks that sit in the church yard near it, which litter there and shout abusive words to me and my children when we are walking home, This area always have beer cans and bottles left on the floors or smashed up my back alley behind station road which is all due to the corner shop selling alcohol.. I can not even let my children play in the back garden because of the drunken lads that come down thinking they can just pee any where or try and be friendly by asking my kids what there names are.. I fear for my kids safety at all times and it doesn't help with the more alcohol shops that open in the area, which generates more and more alcoholics, Our holiday makers already get enough abuse from the drunks that have generated in this area, from all the little shops that are allowed to sell alcohol.. I hope this objection is taken serous as I'm trying to look out for my children's safety and these little shops are not interested in anything like that.

Thanks again

There is a licensing application for 82 Bond Street to open as an off license to which my husband and I strongly object to...on the grounds of there is no need for further shops like this in this area...one is enough....and we Already have more than we need with tesco....aldi....Iceland....and Waterloo road premier ...Percy's ..and withnell road , to name but a few ....then at least 9 public houses in the vicinity also....

There is already a premier shop adjacent to the shop submitting the application , we think it is run by the same family which have applied for this new licence at 82 Bond Street

The premier shop recently had a variation order approved to which we objected...allowing alcohol to be sold from 8am until 12.

Since this order was approved, there is rubbish at the shop entrance, the bins rarely get emptied and the alcoholics come off the promenade all hours , shouting and bawling....and teenagers congregate on the corner asking people to buy them alcohol , then consume it on the back streets and leave the empties .....not a good impression for the tourist area we live in

This is a council designated holiday area....we all have bars in situ for our guests, and the shop already selling alcohol in this area causes problems....so we are against a further shop opening

Blackpool already has a bad reputation for areas having drunk and disorderly people...it is renowned for having a drink problem...another off license will only add to the problems the police and ambulance service have and we therefore object to this application

Dear Sir or madam

I am writing to object to the licensing application at the ex-kebab shop on Bond Street.

I object on the basis of concerns for law & order. South Shore is plagued with anti-social behaviour problems, generally fuelled by drug & alcohol abuse. Since there is a shop selling alcohol until late at night only 50 yards away & numerous public houses in the area there is really no need for yet another alcohol outlet adding to the problems already present in the vicinity.

We have recently had cause to ask the local community safety officers to move on alcoholics congregating in the grounds of Holy Trinity Church. As if this weren't bad enough, they were constantly walking up & down Dean Street shouting abuse at local residents & holiday makers & trying to sell single cigarettes to make enough money for yet more alcohol, bought at the local shop. This is very intimidating for local residents & holiday makers alike (after all, this is a holiday area). One of these alcoholics threatened to pull up the flowers I was planting when I refused to buy cigarettes from him (he said he was from Manchester & knew about these things)!

If you care to check the number of police and ambulance call outs to Dean Street this year I think my point about substance abuse will become clear. No more please!

Yours faithfully
Angela McClelland
