5.0 Background Information

5.1 Historically Alley Gate orders under the Highways Act 1980 permitted the installation of gates used to restrict public access to alleyways where anti-social behaviour and/or crime existed.

5.2 The Anti-social Behaviour Crime and Policing Act 2014 converted existing alley gate orders automatically into Public Space Protection Orders. These orders are now due for renewal.

5.3 Due to the number of alley gates installed within the Borough, rather than creating a PSPO for each alley gate installation, every Ward will have a PSPO listing all of the alley gates in that particular area. This will make it easier for residents to search for details of alley gates near to where they live.

5.4 Consultation with residents took place in December 2020. There were no objections to the proposed order. The majority of the responses were positive towards retaining the gates. Some comments requested a review of the gates, for example, considering a relocation of the gate, or the installation of additional gates to provide further security. Some residents did request removal of gates but this was a minority viewpoint.

5.5 There are no new alley gates. All of the alley gates listed in the schedule to the order attached were installed a number of years ago under the authority of a gating order.

5.6 If there is a need in the future to install/remove gates, the PSPO can be varied as necessary at that time.
